

A WEDDING WONDERLAND

Demonstrating a winter wedding set-up that is dreamy in every aspect, Krissy Quinton of Primrose Cakes shares the details of this styled shoot at Hintlesham Hall, Ipswich

“We wanted to create an overall look of winter without any hint of Christmas. As such, we kept the look away from a stereotypical, novelty theme and created a luxurious, winter-themed wedding day.

“The colour palette was sage green with dusky and icy blues. These colours gave the feel of winter, with added silver for a winter sparkle and luxurious finish.

“Hintlesham Hall has very versatile rooms and we were able to style the Justice Room and Long Gallery with greenery, white blossom trees and lots of silver décor with flickering candlelight to create a wintry feel. As the day passed, the candles brought a glistening light to the room for a cosy and romantic atmosphere.

“The bridal accessories from Nu Jewellery By Emma and shoes by The New Glass Slipper offered winter berry style accents to the elegant, sleek wedding dress. The cake brought together the colour scheme, with added silver leaf to replicate the candlelight. I wanted to create a cake design that was both fresh and modern, and the sugar flowers perfectly complemented the flowers used in the décor and bouquet.” ♥
